Bankers Were Shocked.

Boston, May 19.—Bank men are deeply shocked by the Seely dinner features of the program that was provided for the annual meeting of the Bank Officers' Association which took place last night. Some of the staid and venerable financial kings of Boston were so much outraged by the gyrations of a beautiful and scantily clad actress after the conclusion of the dinner that they left the banqueting room in high glee and threatened to sever their connection with the organization if the offense is repeated. Hereafter the programs furnished for the entertainments have been very dignified.

It would be a life task to read through the voluminous mass of letters which Gladstone was so fond of writing. Mr. Morley's plan in preparing his biography therefore is to make selections of letters which throw special light on the character and work of his subject. Clever assistants make copies of usable epistles, and Mr. Morley edits and decides upon them.
